GREAT BATTLE ON THE FRENCH FRONT MEN

U. S. AMBASSADOR DESCRIBES HAVOC GERMANS WROUGHT

Roads Blown Up, Wells Destroyed, Fields in Waste in Territory Given Up.

WASHINGTON, April 18 .- More details of the vandals' orgy which attends the German retreat from Northern France are contained in a report to the State Department from Ambassador Sharp, who writes of his personal observations and quotes from German accounts.

"Great distress prevails throughout those districts," the report said, "because of the very wantonness of the retreating army in carrying out the destruction of everything which would contribute to the bare existence of the population and also of every means of earning a livelihood."

From a local German paper the Ambassador quotes a description of the scenes and states that from his own personal observation he can for its entire accuracy.

"All is a desert," says the German account, "across which the road is the last vestige of a vanished civiligation; and the road itself will disappear in a few days. The crossroads are mined and the mine chambers charged. Motor driven plaws are at work in the fields, rendering them Impassable for the enemy's artiflery and convoys. Troops on the march pass with wagons lades with provisions and utensils. They have left nothing in the places evacuated, What has not been destroyed has been burned or smashed.

'Soldiers have blown up their shelters and rendered their wells and former quarters useless. The wells that remain will be destroyed by explo-sives. Even cellars have been blown up. The work has been carried out methodically."

Our blood is composed of red and white corpuscles—the rod to nourish the body, the white to fight disease. In Anaemia or bloodlessness-the red corpuscles are more or less deficient. Thus the blood cannot provide sufficient nourishment for the body. Therefore the face becomes white and "pasty"—the eyes become dull and "heavy"—and a feeling of ntense weariness pervades the whole system. To overcome Anaemia, the blood supply needs recharging with red corpuscles. And it is

AMSTERDAM, April 18 (via London) .- Most of the German newspapers take Brazil to task more o eas severely for breaking off relation with Germany. The Tageszeitung of Berlin asserts there is no justified tion for this act and can see only on reason for Brazil's policy-pressure by the United States and the Entente. The Kreuzzeitung endeavors to allay fears generated by reports that a million Americans are coming to Europe to fight by calculating that their transportation would require 12 tons of shipping per man and that therefore 12,000,000 tons would be needed. Inasmuch as America has only 1,000,000 tons of ocean shipping, it says, the enterprise is impossible even with the greatest acceleration of the shipbuilding programme.
